

THE NORTH END'S NEW ATTORNEY

You have probably seen Ed Amaral walking around the neighborhood here in the North End with his cream colored French bulldog named Luciano. Amaral has lived at the Prince Building at 63 Atlantic Avenue, since April of 2006. He has recently opened up his second law office on the street level of the building adjacent to Prince at 65 Atlantic Avenue. Amaral, who's last name is Portuguese but is also of Italian and Greek decent, is happy to be working in North End again. In 1986 Amaral worked as a paralegal for Campbell and Associates, P.C., a law firm located above the former Michael's restaurant at 83 Atlantic Avenue which was located next store to his new office. Amaral states that, "he can still remember walking through the North End on his lunch hour and inhaling the smell of all the wonderful foods from the local restaurants and bakeries on my way to grab a sandwich at the old Scola's sub shop and... now he's back."

Amaral's other office is located around the corner from the beach in Winthrop, Massachusetts at 246 Revere Street in a building that Amaral renovated 12 years ago. After graduating from Suffolk Law School in 1992, Amaral worked for the Bronx District Attorney's office as an assistant district attorney and later opened up his own law practice at 92 State Street in Boston in 1994 until he relocated his office to Winthrop in 1997 during the big dig mess. Since then, his eight member law firm practices general law in the areas of family law, real estate, estate planning, asset protection, business law, immigration and personal injury. Amaral, himself, is considered one of the leading divorce and family law attorneys in the State and had represented many high net worth clients with their divorces, support and custody matters. Amaral is also certified in Divorce mediation during which he can usually settle most divorce cases in ten (10) hours or less for a fraction of what a divorce would normally cost.

Amaral is a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association, Massachusetts Academy of Trial Attorneys, and The Offshore Institute. He is also an affiliate partner with the law firm of Engel and Reiman, P.C., who's principal attorney, Barry Engel, is considered one of if not the top asset protection and offshore trust attorneys in the world. Amaral has large contingency of real estate and asset protection clients right here in the North End who own real estate and multiple properties including commercial businesses and is happy to continue to service these clients at his new location.
